

Positions in Finance

The Ivey Business School invites applications from exceptional early or mid-career candidates to fill a probationary (tenure-track) position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor in the Finance discipline. If qualifications and experience warrant, the appointment may be made with tenure at the rank of Associate Professor. A Limited Term appointment may also be considered; rank to be determined by qualifications and experience. The positions are available to begin in July 2015, although alternate starting dates may be arranged.

TENURED POSITION: Applicants for a tenured appointment at the rank of Associate Professor will hold a PhD (or equivalent degree) and be established finance scholars with a strong publication record in high quality finance outlets in the areas of investments or corporate finance. The ideal candidate would take a leadership role in fostering research at the school. Candidates should also have demonstrated strengths in teaching, having links to the practice of finance through executive education, consulting experience and/or past work experience.

PROBATIONARY (TENURE-TRACK) POSITION: Applicants for a probationary (tenure-track) appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor must have a PhD (or equivalent degree) and have demonstrated the ability to teach in core undergraduate and/or MBA courses using a case discussion format. Candidates should have a strong academic background and demonstrate research potential by the ability to publish in high quality finance outlets in the areas of investments or corporate finance.

LIMITED TERM POSITION: Applicants considered for a Limited Term appointment are expected to have an MBA or more advanced degree plus significant industry experience, or have or be nearing completion of their doctorate. The ideal candidate will have demonstrated excellence in case teaching in core undergraduate and/or MBA courses using a case discussion format.

The School values and supports investments and corporate finance research that has impact and is publishable in leading journals. Successful candidates will be expected to teach Finance subjects in our student-centered, case-based undergraduate, MBA, or EMBA programs, or in the MSc or PhD programs. Candidates doing relevant research supportive of one or more of the School's Centres or Institutes and adding to established School strengths are preferred (<http://www.ivey.uwo.ca/faculty/centres/>).

Applicants are encouraged to submit materials (curriculum vitae, copies of research papers, as well as three recommendation letters sent directly from the referees) online to facultypositions@ivey.ca (See <http://www.ivey.uwo.ca/faculty/career-opportunities/> for other application details including a mailing address.) Review of applicants will commence on December 10, 2014 and applications will be considered until the position is filled.

The Ivey Business School is Canada's premier business school and is recognized globally for the quality of its management education and research. The School has campuses in London (Canada), Toronto and Hong Kong, as well as offices in Mumbai.

All positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants must have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, under Canadian immigration requirements, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority. The Ivey Business School and Western University - Canada are committed to employment equity and welcome applications from all qualified women and men, including visible minorities, aboriginal people and persons with disabilities.

Please ensure that the form available at <http://www.uwo.ca/facultyrelations/faculty/Application-FullTime-Faculty-Position-Form.pdf> is completed and included in your application submission.
