The application consists of a resume and a standard ‘fill-in-the-blank’ form with three essay questions (500 words in total). Our selection process looks for candidates with deep personal and professional commitment to sustainability over the long-term. Our goal is to assemble a cohort of students with varied approaches, understandings, and goals for leading and building sustainable organizations. We are not looking for a perfect candidate, but rather to gain authentic insight into your own aspirations and achievements.

The application form also includes a handful of optional questions. These questions to help us better anticipate your needs and manage your progression through the certificate. Your admission is not contingent on these answers but we appreciate them for our own planning.
