ADMISSION

Students apply into the Certificate program during March of their first HBA year (or for combined degree students at the end of your first or second HBA year). The application for admission consists of essay questions plus a short biography, photo and up-to-date resume. For more information, please contact the Sustainability Certificate Program.

EXCHANGE

Students going on exchange in the second term must complete all core courses at Ivey but can substitute 0.5 electives with sustainability-related courses offered by your host institution. Students must obtain pre-approval from the Sustainability Certificate Program and the HBA Program Office for these substitutions before leaving on exchange.

FURTHER INFORMATION ON 4499: CASE WRITING OR RESEARCH PROJECT

All sustainability certificate students have the option to complete a half-course (80-hour equivalent) case writing OR research project under the direct supervision of an Ivey faculty member. Projects must have a sustainability or social impact component and must be approved by the Sustainability Certificate Program before being submitted to the HBA Program Office. Students can receive course credit for either a case writing or a research project, but not both.

Projects can be completed in either term of the student's HBA2 (or HBA3) year, but cannot be completed while on exchange. Beginning and end dates on your chosen case writing project can be flexible, as long as the 80-hour equivalent has been satisfied and the case has been completed by the end of the chosen term.

Students are responsible for scoping the project and finding a faculty member willing to supervise them. Students must discuss the project with their faculty advisor, fill out the Case Writing Proposal Form, and get approval from both their faculty advisor and the HBA Program Office before the end of the add/drop period in September or January. If you have any questions or concerns about the proposal process, please reach out to the Sustainability Certificate program for assistance.

For all published cases, Sustainability Certificate students will receive case writing co-authorship.
